BASEBALL, AUTOS,
LAWN TENNIS, GOLFSOUTHPAWS WANT JAMES TO PITCH
TO JOIN OAKS FOR SHIPBUILDERSDel Howard Sees Youngsters
Work Out Each Morning—
May Sign Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Although Harry Krause is one of the best left-handers in the Coast league, and he has accepted terms with the Oaks, there are a couple of young southpaws, trying to convince Del Howard that they should have places on the pay roll this year. Caldera, a youth from San Leandro, and Coleman, from one of the towns up country, are southpawing at the Oakland lots these bright mornings to show Manager Del what they can do, and one or both of them will be taken to Boyes Springs.

Krause will be back, so the Oaks will have one foxy left-hander to mix in with the northpaw flingers. But if Howard can pick up a promising kid flinger he will make room for him on the staff.

Perry, from San Jose, is showing off at first base, while Rube Gardner is working in the country, but the old-timer is not worrying, for he figures that this wallop will more than make up for his lack of speed and that he will be on the job again this year.

Perry is a right-handed thrower and looks rather shifty on his feet. He will be taken to the Springs. Nelson Hawkes and Clayton Schley are fly chasers who show plenty of speed. Hawkes is regarded as the fastest man going down the line around his section of the country.

Manager Howard will herd his flock Sunday morning and hike for the Springs, for he wants to begin regular workouts Monday morning. He expects about fifteen men in the first shipment and will have about twenty-five in the camp when all the stragglers come in. Tiny Goodbred will be late reporting, for he lives away down in Florida.

The first practice game will be played at Boyes Springs March 10 with Duffy Lewis' sailors as the attraction. Games may be arranged later with teams from St. Mary's, Stanford and California, though no definite dates have yet been fixed.

March 23 and 24 the Oaks will get back to the home lot to take on the Marines, led by Rod Murphy, late captain of the Oakland bunch. Rod will try hard to down his old mates, but Howard should have a couple of pitchers in shape by that time and make a regular ball game of it.

When he comes home to play the Marines, Manager Howard will probably conclude to finish the training season on the home lot, for he has games with the Chicago Cubs March 27, 28 and 31, and it will be hardly worth while for him to take the bunch back to Boyes Springs after the games with the Marines.

MACK GETS PLAYERS
IN MINNIS TRADE
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The deal in which stuffy Minnis and other athletic players were sent to the Boston Red Sox was completed today. Third baseman Gardner, catcher Cady and outfielder Tilly Walker were released to Connie Mack.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, and Mack later had a conference. Huggins dickered for Walker, but the deal was not closed today.

Quits International Coast
League—Walt McCredie
Very Busy—Signs Good Men.

PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—It looks as if Lefty James' threat to retire from baseball rather than play with the Portland Pacific International club is about to be made good.

Lefty conferred with President McCredie some time ago and was surprised at the liberal contract he was offered. He told him that he would let him know about it in a few days, but it develops that he has quit his job as a brakeman in Pendleton and has gone to work for one of the local shipyards here. He will pitch for the Shipbuilding league, which already has some fast players lined up in its ranks.

James may figure that there is still one month before the Pacific International starts its training season and he will be able by this time to know how well he likes the steady hours imposed on the laboring man.

A letter from Walter McCredie today caused considerable amusement at local baseball headquarters. Among other things it carried a request that his uniform, glove, shoes, sweater, "etc.," be sent him at Portland.

The term is a rather high class one for the Bee pilot to employ and Judge McCredie is at a loss to know just what to send to comply with its terms.

Walter also states that he has signed Pitcher Arkenburg, the young Pasadena hurler, whom a number of other clubs were after. He has been showing great form in the winter league this year.

Although Ike Wolfer, the former Vancouver outfielder, has been named as manager of one of the local shipyard teams, he is still considering the contract Bill Rodgers has sent him, and it is likely that he will sign it in a day or two.

Wolfer would like a chance to try to make good in class AA circles. He accompanied the Portland team on its trip to Honolulu last year, taking the place of Jack Farmer, and impressed Rodgers then with his playing ability.

British employment exchanges filled a daily average of 5361 vacancies during the four weeks of November.
